The structure of higher education in Great Britain is very complex. The main sources of higher educational institutions are: universities (including the Open University) 1, teacher-training colleges and polytechnics. British universities come in all ages, sizes and shapes. The oldest of them, Oxford and Cambridge, founded in the 12th and 13th centuries took the students from all over the country. The younger civic 2 or “Redbrick” universities 3 serving the needs of their cities were organized in the 19th century. The newest “Whitebrick” universities 4 came into existence during the 1960s. Admission to universities is by examination or selection in the form of interviews. Applications from candidates for admission to nearly all universities are submitted to the Universities’ Central Council on Admissions (UCCA) 5. It is the UCCA that sends the copies to different universities and each university selects its own students. British universities are independent, self-governing institutions. Although they all receive financial support from the state (about 79 per cent), the Department of Education and Science 6 has no control over their regulations, curriculum, examinations and the way in which the money is spent. Teacher education includes all forms of education provided mostly by teacher-training colleges which receive their grants directly from the Department of Education and Science.

2. Write an informal letter to your British friends you stayed with last month. Tell them about your life when you returned home, thank them for their hospitality.

Пример неофициального письма.

Dear Rashid,

It was great to hear from you and I'm really glad that things are working out for you down under. It sounds as if you have landed on your feet!

Many thanks for your kind invitation to come and stay with you and Maybeline in Perth, but I'm going to have to turn you down this time. The problem is that I'm just too busy studying for my IELTS exam and I don't have enough time in the day as it is. Perhaps I can take you up on your offer sometime next year, when I hope that I'll have got that magic band score 8.0.

My other news is that Acme have offered me a promotion and soon I should be the senior accounts manager. Obviously that means more money but the downside is that I'm almost certainly going to have to work much longer hours too. There's a cloud to every silver lining! Anyway, I must get down to work again. So thanks once more for your kind invitation and I do hope that we can get together sometime in the not too distant future.

All the best

Dominic
